

In all cities or all that I have visited close to camps or ports you will always find tattoo artists, waiting eagerly to fix up the homesick soldier or sailor. Tattooing is to me what hard liquor is to Reverend Kaze and if there is ever an issue or a campaign against it I will travel the country to do my best to stamp it out.

This hideous business is kept alive mostly by soldiers, sailors, and construction workers. Always, even as a child, I have been interested in it purely from an inquisitive spectator's standpoint. I hate tattooing from the bottom of my heart. A tattoo need to me is the same as a viper's tooth. I never miss an opportunity to meet a man who has the picture of a man question him from an admiring standpoint then he usually answers all questions.

Most everyone goes to the tattoo artists either when they are drunk, inebriated, homesick or in some frame of mind that makes them feel that "nothing really matters." Most regret that they had it done, others are proud of it while, but I believe in time to come all regret it.

Here in Richmond on the main drag is Leo's shop. He does a hand-off business and I picked up enough courage to go in the other day. Leo is a very large man and he has an abundance of scars on his arms and legs. He is very proud of them. He runs specialties very much the same as grocery stores, and on this special day he was running a special on social security numbers 75 cents or if you wanted a big job like a battleship or a chest full of weapons throw in the social security number. He had several designs of his own and it seems to be a tradition amongst his fellows not to copy a fellow artist's work. He was very proud of the rose with the dagger through it.

Pain is not bad with the new type electric needle but if one ever changes his mind it's bad. It can be burned off but it leaves a very bad scar, and is quite painful.

To me tattooing is definitely out. In the cigarette factories each girl can turn over her hand in a minute. Someone must have been off last week for Luckey, who definitely short here this week—four packs to a customer.

This would be a terrible town to hold a Democratic convention. Whiskey is handled by the state through the retail bottle. If you can prove to the ration board that you are a resident of this state they will give you a book which entitles you to a bottle per month. There is no bootlegging and you seldom ever see a drunk. Beer is one to a customer when it can be found.

Most everyone goes to church and Sunday is a day that is really quiet here for quite a while.

I like the one about one of the delegates who went to Louisville for the convention and was fully dressed ready to leave his hotel when he stepped on a piece of ice and found that he was barefooted. Later his shoes and socks were found on an upper floor.

I am sure the Brown Hotel appreciated the two lady delegates who got up the next morning, cleaned their room and made up the bed.

Food Specialist Advises Canning Of Culled Chickens

Lorraine Harris Points Out Economy, Thrift of Canning Culls for Winter

Shortage of feed is causing farmers to cull flocks to get rid of sicklier hens and even some other chickens. Canning the culls is advised by the local Emergency War Food Conservation Assistant, Miss Lorraine Harris, as an economical and thrifty way to provide variety and goodness in winter meals.

Pump hens 1 to 2 years old are ideal for the purpose. They have more flavor and better texture after canning than do fryers and broilers.

Put the fowl into the usual size pieces, then steam in a small amount of water until heated through, or brown in chicken fat. After the water is off, put in a pound of chicken. Pack while hot into hot sterilized jars and process in a pressure cooker for 1 hour at 15 pounds pressure, or for 90 minutes at 10 pounds pressure.

Although a pressure cooker is recommended for canning chicken, if these directions are carefully followed: Use only pint or quart jars, sterile and hot. Cover the jars at least two inches of water during the entire processing time. Do not count time until the water comes back to a rolling boil. Then boil both pint and quart jars for 3 hours. Keep the water boiling vigorously throughout the entire processing time. Remove jars at end of processing time and complete seal immediately. When a jar is opened for use, boil the meat in the liquid in which it was canned for at least 15 minutes before testing it.

Fifth War Loan Drive In County Nets Over $200,000

President William H. Vaughan announced this week that the latest figures submitted to him as the Rowan County chairman of the Fifth War Loan Drive indicate that this county brought $198,510 in bonds.

Although the Bond Drive officially ended on Saturday, July 8, Vaughan stated that there are still some districts in the county whose totals have not been reported, and that bonds are still selling to such an extent that Rowan will go well over $200,000 when the final result is tallied.

With the county's quota set at $150,000, this Fifth War Loan Drive is considered most successful. As stated in last week's issue, Mrs. W. H. Carter, of Morehead, is credited with the sale of at least $19,800.

Willis Addresses Independence Day Audience July 6

Lt. Comm. Frank Burgess Appears On Program—Public Reception Given In Johnson-Camden Library

Honorable Simeon Willis, governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, spoke to a full house at the Morehead State Teachers College auditorium Thursday night at a program in celebration of Independence Day.

Governor Willis, making his first appearance in Morehead since his election to the governorship last year, expressed his pleasure at being asked to appear on the program, and termed it a "homecoming" to him to be back in this community.

Speaking on the part education must play in a world of liberty, Governor Willis declared that "the people of the world must be educated to liberty, and that they will not question it." He spoke of the part which all educational institutions play in the education for a better world, emphasizing the importance of each insignificant rural school, and pointing up his remarks with the statement that the greatest people rise from the common masses.

"Without education a people are ignorant," the governor said, "and it is only through education that people will perish in an incredibly short time." He discussed history and its proof of the necessity for high moral and good character in the building of a worthwhile world. He challenged his audience to work towards high ideals, reminding them that "man is created in the image of God, and that in developing our faculties to the highest we are not only creating an individual accomplishment, but that of a higher destiny as well."

Vanhusen Introduces Speakers

Dr. William H. Vaughan, president of Morehead College, presided at the program, and introduced the speakers. In presenting Governor Willis, he lauded him as the champion of the cause of the educational institutions in Kentucky.

Navy Head Speaks

Dr. Vaughan also introduced Lt. Comm. Frank Burgess, newly appointed captain of the Morehead Naval Training School, who spoke briefly on the subject of Independence Day. Comm. Burgess reviewed the development of the Declaration of Independence, and summarized the fight for freedom with the expansion of the American armed forces within recent years.

Thursday night program marked the new captain's first address to Morehead citizens. He took over his work at the local Navy office at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., he was sent to the hospital for a spinal operation and received a medical discharge November 1, 1943, and was transferred to the Eighth Air Force and after two months this unit was returned to the United States to enter Aviation Cadet training. College Board Of Regents Met Thursday, July 6

The Board of Regents of the Morehead State Teachers College met at the college Thursday, July 6, at 2 p. m. Present were: Mrs. Allie W. Young, Morehead, vice-chairman; Donald H. Putnam, Ashland, E. H. Shannon, and Harry LaViers, Paintsville. Absent: State Superintendent John F. Williams, Frankfort, chairman of the Board.

A financial report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1944, was presented and a proposed budget for the fiscal year, 1944-45, was submitted. The Board, after studying both the financial report and the budget, approved same.

The 1944-45 operating budget for the year 1943-44 was $880,167.64, while the budget estimate for 1944-45 is $385,365.00. The difference in the two figures was made up by the total Navy operations. The Board endorsed the new budget, which calls for very careful expenditures.

The faculty and the administrative staff were re-employed for the coming year.

Superintendent Williams was prevented from attending the Board meeting because of the illness of his wife who is in a hospital at Lexington recovering from a major operation.

Teacher Pay Deferments Seem Likely

Tax Revenues First Half To Fall Short of Needs

Despite passage by the recent special session of the Legislature of the largest school appropriation in Kentucky's history, Finance Commissioner Clarence Miller said it appeared that payment of teacher salaries probably would have to be deferred in many counties during the first or second quarter of the fiscal year.

Miller said certain provisions of the new budget act containing school appropriations require payment as-you-go spending, but earmarked most of the treasury surplus for purposes other than the schools.

About 85 per cent of the school per capita fund, used to pay teachers, becomes due during the first six months of the fiscal year, but heaviest flow of tax revenue to the fund comes during the second quarter of the fiscal year.

"In the past we have been able to borrow from the surplus to make school payments the first six months, repaying it during the second six months," he said. "This year we don't have much surplus."

The Budget Act passed by the special session required that $5,000,000 of the surplus be invested in War Bonds to save for institutional improvements and create a general emergency fund of $3,000,000.

Warren M. Van Hoose, acting budget director, released figures showing that an unencumbered balance of $1,624,710 remained in the treasury after purchase of the War Bonds and allotment of the emergency fund. That balance, along with a portion of the emergency money, will be available for budget payments, but will be far from sufficient to supplement revenue to meet the needs of school appropriations, Van Hoose said.

Miller said that deferred payments probably could be made up in one to two months, or soon after beginning of the third quarter.

"Some counties—but they are few—are able to meet payments as they become due out of local funds," Miller said. "Others may be able to finance payments through banks without interest. But it looks like payments will be delayed in most instances."

Rationed Farm Machinery Items Cut To Nineteen

Outout Next 12 Months To Equal 1940 Level

Increased farm machinery production has made it possible to reduce from thirty-one to nineteen the types to be left on the ration list after July 20, the War Food Administration said this week.

Over-all farm machinery production is now at an annual level which approximates production in 1940—a better than average year—and maintenance of output at this level for the twelve months beginning July 1 is anticipated.

The nineteen types of implements which will continue to be rationed include: Combines, corn binders, corn pickers, manure spreaders, mowers, side-delivery rakes, hay loaders, pick-up hay balers, tractors, grain drills, potato planters, potato diggers, silo fillers, irrigation pumps, power sprayers, garden tractors, deep and shallow well water systems, power pumps and farm milk coolers.

The O.P.A., meanwhile, announced 1944 Irish potato production is identical with 1943, month month, except for increases in the states during the second half of July.

Effective July 15, the F.O.B. shipping point price will be increased by 29 cents a hundredweight in Nebraska and by 30 cents a hundredweight in Kansas, Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia. The July increase was granted to those states because of a decreased yield, due to adverse weather conditions.

O.P.A. said that for the country as a whole, there will be no appreciable change at retail.

O.P.A. also announced that the differential for undersized potatoes (Size B) is suspended throughout July in all states except California and Arizona. Weather conditions have caused a marked increase in the percentage of small potatoes, except in those two states, it was explained.

Suspension of the differential means elimination of any price distinction among U. S. No. 1 commercial and Size B potatoes. The same action had been taken in June in certain Southern States. O.P.A. cautioned that suspension of the differential has no bearing on establishment of official grades of potatoes by the Agriculture Department.

O.P.A. also imposed price ceilings on 1944-crop sweet potatoes intended to result in a national average retail price of about 10 cents a pound, somewhat lower than last year.

The regulation provides ceilings, effective July 15, designed to reflect an average farm price of $1.69 a bushel, as required by the office of economic stabilization.

Dollar and cent prices for purchases made "F.O.B. shipping point" in four major sweet potato producing zones were prescribed. The wholesale mark is 55 cents a bushel, and retail prices are governed by a fixed percentage mark-up over the wholesale price.

In Zone 2, which includes Kentucky and Indiana, the ceiling is $3.25 a bushel.

MSTC Commerce Department Most Modern In South

New Equipment and Office Machines Have Been Installed

Twenty-eight new desks and a number of office machines, which have just been installed, make the department of commerce of Morehead State Teachers College one of the best equipped in the South.

Dollar and cent prices for purchases made "F.O.B. shipping point" in four major sweet potato producing zones were prescribed. The wholesale mark is 55 cents a bushel, and retail prices are governed by a fixed percentage mark-up over the wholesale price.

Plans have been made to materialize in the near future, for the purchase of adjustable posture chairs to accompany the desks. Of course, equipment of this type is very difficult to secure in these times, but as soon as these chairs are available on the market, they will be added to the desks in the typing room. The adjustable chairs are recognized by business authorities to be very satisfactory from the standpoint of both the comfort of the worker and the quality of the work produced.

But new desks in the typing room aren't all that's been added recently to the equipment of the commerce department. Another modern invention, a Burroughs Bookkeeping Machine, has been installed and added to the equipment.

ment of the department. This machine, one of the most versatile of all office machines, does everything from simple addition to posting to the ledger pages. It is widely used for preparing a variety of common office forms—purchase and sales forms, stock reports, customers' statements, and in general just about every operation required in the modern business office. Instruction in the fundamentals of the bookkeeping machine has been added to the regular course in clerical office machines, and a special advanced course is offered for those who have studied bookkeeping.

A new Multigraph, a duplicating machine designed to produce duplicated letters and other material so they will look exactly like type-written or printed material, has been added to the equipment in the office machines room. To supply the needs of growing classes in this field, a new transcribing machine and a new adding machine have been added to similar equipment already in use.

But the new desks in the typing room and the new machines in the office machines room are just a beginning. Plans are well under way now to keep the Morehead commerce department in the role it now plays as the most fully and modernly equipped of that of any teachers college in the South, and to make it better able to meet the demands of the steadily growing popularity of that field. Plans are being made to equip the bookkeeping room with desks especially fitted to secretarial procedure and bookkeeping work and to provide newer and better systems of lighting in the classrooms. This department has two main aims—to prepare teachers who will be going into modern schools to teach, in order that they may give competent instruction in the most up-to-date business methods; and to prepare those students who plan to enter the field of business to be capable of using and practicing the most efficient methods. Improvements are being made in this department rapidly, and will continue to be made all along. Some of the plans, of course, will have to wait for a while—until the greater task of winning the victory has been performed. But when the time comes, there is no doubt that Morehead College will be amply prepared to produce men and women trained to assume their responsibilities in the post-war business world.

The Rowan County Girl Scout Association met Friday, July 7, in the Science building at 4 o'clock.

More important matters taken up at the meeting included the forming of an association with the Board of Directors to take the place of the old Morehead Girl Scout Council and the passing on new resolutions. A committee was also appointed to set the date and make plans for at least two Girl Scout Day Camps to be held each month. More detailed information on the Day Camps will be published soon.

It was also announced at the meeting that arrangements have been completed for the use of the county courthouse basement for the storage of waste paper for the national drive. Hereafter, any persons wishing to contribute paper for the local drive may contact the janitor at the courthouse.

The basement will be used for the duration of the drive and persons in Morehead are reminded again of the urgent need of the nation for more scrap paper.

The Girl Scouts will continue to help collect waste paper throughout the town. Seven boys from Troop 72 will stay at Camp Offutt next week, July 16 to 23. Boating, canoeing, swimming, hiking, and work on Scout advancement will be the main events at camp. Also an obstacle course has been built for their use. Camp Offutt is located seven miles out of Versailles, on the Kentucky River. The reservations for our troop were late but another troop canceled their reservations. The following boys are going: John Everhart, Bobby Clay, George Alfrey, Carl Fair, Bill Rice, Robert Grey, and Bill Vaughan.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Fellow Citizens: I wish to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for the office of County Judge of this County, subject to the action of the Republican Primary to be held August 5th.

My personal history, briefly, is this: I have been a resident of Morehead and Rowan County for the past 23 years, having been elected as member of the City Council of Morehead and served two years in that capacity. I was connected with the Morehead postoffice for some ten years as mail carrier and have been engaged in business in this city my entire adult life. I have always had a very deep interest in civic matters and in the welfare of the county and its people, and my business experience and my financial knowledge of the needs and problems of the county qualify me for this position. My business experience and my financial knowledge of the needs and problems of the county qualify me for this position.

In the short time left before the Primary election, I may not be able to personally see every voter, although I intend to make every effort to do so. However, I wish to ask each and every voter who may not know me personally to investigate me and my record. On this basis, I ask your support in the coming election.

Sincerely yours,
CURT HUTCHINSON

ATTENTION! ALL HOME CANNERS!

Before you begin your 1944 canning, Good Housekeeping Magazine advises you: use the boiling-water bath method for canning tomatoes and fruits, only. Can all vegetables except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker to be sure of killing botulism germs. In the last few years, cases of botulism food poisoning have cropped up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, borrow, share a pressure cooker—but don't can low-acid vegetables any other way. If you want further information, write Good Housekeeping Magazine, 959 Eighth Avenue, New York 19, N. Y.
